

THE SENIOR RAILSPLITTER

JANUARY
1951

We, the January 1951 Senior Class, dedicate this book to Mrs. Hall, the girls advisor, who has very faithfully advised our class from the beginning to graduation, in all senior activities.

Peggy Dearden, Editor

Class Will

We, the graduating class of January 1951, ending our six years of fun and education, and being of sound mind and having respect for our school, wish to declare our will and testament to the following people:

Peggy Dearden leaves the Editor's job of the Senior Rail to anyone who gets the position. Dick Adams wills his White Drum Major uniform and trouble with old Ford Convertibles to anyone who can use them. Mary Epp leaves her seat in Minnie's to one who loves to eat. Neil Cornielson wills his greasy hands and skinned knuckles to his kid brother, Ross. Jackie Fisher leaves her shortness to Rachel Leo. Frank Gillaspay wills his singing ability to John Sitroneto and "Spider" Gillaspay. They need it.

Delores Flatt leaves to Kay Scott all her mischief; Cynthia Pontious all her extra men; Beverly McConkey all the popcorn she can eat. Jack Mayer wills all his good times as Sports Editor to Jim McCollough. Joann Geist-Millang leaves her rings to Madaline Davis for future use. Louie Miller wills his job of Regular Rail Editor to anyone who is fortunate enough to have it. Joan Houke leaves the remaining contents of her peroxide bottle to Bonnie Holden. Jim Minks wills all his excess pounds to Dick Horton and Bill Lapham!

Lenore Jensen leaves her luck with broken golf clubs and tree happiness to the future golf hakers society. John Nigro wills all of the faculty to anybody who enjoys them as he has. Jane Kierulff leaves her favorite weaving loom in Crafts to Jeanie Gentile. Ted Olson wills his bad arm to Coach Graff. Ann Kirk leaves all her success in High School to Lillian Hunt. John Parsons wills all his stupidity to Darrell Blunck. Katherine Lose leaves her good hour of rest each day in History to Mary Alice Cox.

John Rothfus wills to the new Student Council President his beaten and battered gavel (Mr. Stone's brush.) Helen McPhee leaves her 8:00 typing classes to JoAnn Knight and hopes she gets something accomplished in it. Bob Richardson wills his many mean times to any other mean varmint left in Lincoln. Betty McWilliams wills her good time and the third booth from the front at the Green Lantern with her best wishes to Pat Reynolds. Al Shelhamer leaves to big bold Terry Shuck his bashfulness. Marlene Miller wills her sense of humor and ability to tell funny stories to Mary Young.

Don Short leaves his sleeping days to one lucky person who likes sleeping. Mary Ann Morise wills Clara Egenberger mischief incorporated and her ability to sleep in class. Jim Silcott leaves to his Shadow, Charles Formaro a flashlight so everyone will see him. Roselind Pomerantz wills her place on Nurse's staff to Beverly Sloan. John True leaves his locker to anyone who has enough junk to keep it as full as he did. JoAnne Robinson wills her ability to ask stupid questions to Enes and Mole. Dan Witter leaves his good times and studying habits to Larry Palmer.

Arlene Shaw hereby bequeaths her potent voice to Miss Lewis for future use. Ann Sullivan-Mayer wills Phillis Kissel her uniform and the many joys of Cheerleading. Maxine Sheldon leaves her good times at Lincoln to her sister, Helen. Doris Sloan-Emery wills her one lonely dimple to Carmon Hansen. To Jacque Huffman goes Evelyn Spoonhaltz's two false teeth. Delores Stevens being of sound mind and body and always has been, wills her popcorn and candy business to Flora Fisher. Mary Villirillo leaves her ability to get her typing at the last minute to Theda Miller. Willie Webb wills her good times in 221 to Norma Jean Davison.

We (the forty students of the graduating class) wish to will our books, pencils, and paper to each and every student in Lincoln, who wishes to acquire an education as perfect as ours.

Senior Class Officers

With the ability to succeed in everything he undertakes, Ted Olson was elected President of the January 1951 Class. He will always be remembered for his friendly attitude toward his fellow classmates.

Filling the office of Vice-President is Jack Mayer. Well-known and well liked throughout Lincoln High, Jack is very capable and deserving of this honor.

Taking the minutes of all the Senior Class meetings is the job of Secretary Marlene Miller. Her efficiency in typing and shorthand well qualifies her for this office.

In accordance with her outstanding bookkeeping knowledge Mary Ann Morise was chosen Class Treasurer. With her sweet disposition and shy manner as her assets, Mary is destined to be a success in the future.

The Senior Railsplitter

Chosen editor-in-chief of this semester's Senior Rail was efficient and dependable Peggy Dearden. Peggy headed a staff of twelve members.

New in the field of make-up was Marlene Miller. Her job was to place pictures and all written material in an attractive way, which would be pleasing to the reader's eye.

Working together as sketch editors were Ann Sullivan and John Rothfus. This was one of the most difficult jobs on the staff, as it requires much thought and hard work on the part of the writers.

Organization was the problem of Maxine Sheldon; her job was to collect all the money for the pictures that were to appear in the book.

Jack Mayer, a veteran at the job of sports, again took over the job of sports editor.

The advertising responsibilities went to Frank Gillaspy, assisted by Louie Miller.

Handling circulation was Betty McWilliams, and Katherine Lose was in charge of collecting all the money for the glossies.

Mary Villirillo was in charge of the picture page; her job was to collect pictures and place them on their respective pages.

Jackie Fisher will be writing the Class Will and Evelyn Spoonholtz the Prophecy.

Senior Class Prophecy

As years pass by, we see Ann Sullivan and Jack Mayer, a retired couple, looking at old albums and watching television, wondering what their many friends are doing, when all of a sudden they see a red Ford convertible making a loud crash as it comes to a halt! Why Jack, who else could that be dragging "Dear John" out from under the floor boards but Joann Giest Millange?

It's they all right Ann, but look who's after them, it's the Chief of Police and it looks like, yep it is . . . it's no one but Frank Gillaspay!

The television goes on and on with the old couple Ann and Jack watching carefully, so as to not miss seeing any of the old A. L. H. S. Alumni. Ha-ha-ha, look Ann, for heaven sake, just look! Johnny! Johnny Nigro as "Tarzan" and John Parson as "Boy" and, and, that is Helen McFee over there as Tarzan's wife Jane.

Well, well Ted Olson is certainly living up to his ambitions. He's walking around and around the world, collecting a dollar at every block.

Jackie Fisher can be seen as President of the Bell Telephone Co. and has finally found that "certain someone" to marry. Could it be that big business executive Dan Witter? Oh-oh, wait a minute—I guess it's going to be a double wedding after all. Marlene and Louie Miller have finally decided to marry at the age of 44. The matron of honor in this wedding is bound to be Maxine Sheldon, who has certainly made a success out of herself.

The television is still moving and old friends keep pouring out at Al Shelhamer and Jake Minks make the final victory in the Rose Bowl. Jim Silcott of course, is manager of the team. No one else but Neil Corneilson could do the cheerleading, and working desperately as referee is our Long John True. Now John! You mustn't be partial!

Don Short and his family of seven boys, who are regular attendants at the Rose Bowl look at each other with a wink of the eye and a flick of the finger, showing their sureness of winning the game.

My land Jack! Look at Betty McWilliams shine those floors. She certainly is making Brownie a good wife. I'll bet she's expecting company tonight. I wonder if it could be Kathrine Lose and her millionaire husband, or maybe Doris Sloan and her husband Curley. Oh yes! and, Curley Jr.

I wonder who this is in the White House? Well what do you know! If it isn't the President himself, John Rothfus. Rosland Pomerantz is Vice President, Ann Kirk Librarian, Dick Adams leading his orchestra, and Miss Peggy Dearden as soloist. My what a voice!

So Willi Webb finally got her man back from Korea and got married. They are residing on Cuddlebug Ave. right next door to Mr. Moyer. Could this be the reason for the many visits Arlene Shaw and her fiance John pay to them?

Just outside the White House is Mary Villorillo's Cadillac parked in the front yard. Bob Richardson the President's chauffeur is arguing with her to get it off the lawn, but after all Bob, Mary doesn't know how to parallel park yet!

Younkers now have America's leading models, which are Joann Robinson and Velma Smith and Jane Kierulff. Just south of down town Des Moines, is the Lincoln Theater. Delores Stevens is manager, and Mary Epps is the leading star. Joan Howe is head usherette.

Way down in Texas we find Evelyn Spoonhaltz married to no one else but her airman "Huffy".

As the television comes to a close we see a beautiful picture of Lincoln High School. Inside we shall find Delores Flatt as a patient Girls' Advisor, and Lenore Jansen as school nurse.
